

Best exams techniques

This is what it all comes down to; you're sitting in the exam hall, waiting to get your hands on that anticipated piece of paper. You've jammed a ton of information into your brain and your fingernails are non-existent – it's time to get down to business!

Yes the exam environment may be different across disciplines. Computing students will sit some tests in front of a computer with their fingers poised to code. A practical element will contribute to science student's final grade. It doesn't matter if you're studying English, Economics, Psychology or History, every exam can be approached in much the same way with these exam writing tips.

We're here to give you some help answering and writing exam questions that will show your knowledge to the person who reads your paper.

How to Answer Exam Questions

Pay attention! These quick tips should be common sense but many students who are under exam stress fail to see their mistakes. We're going to help you avoid a major exam disaster by pointing you in the right direction.

Here's our top exam writing tips to help you understand how to answer exam questions:

1. Practice Past Papers

First of all don't confuse the method or the words changing on any kind of question. Pick the main theme and objective of the question and forget related question wording. In this point mostly student get confused about the answer which is in there mind. There really is no better way to get exam ready than by attempting past papers. Most exam bodies should have past papers available online but your teacher will get you started on these in class.

This process isn't just about preparing an answer for a specific question, it's about understanding how you approach a question in an exam, how to structure your answer, the timings you should assign and what information will get marks.

If you want to create an easy way to test yourself with past papers and feeling some psychological issues about your mental level then try the to concern Kashaan Academy for taking some useful guidance regarding your exams:

2. Read All Questions Carefully

The stress of the situation can cause you to misread a question, plan your answer out, start writing your response and then realize you made a mistake and wasted vital time. Even though you generally won't be writing answers to every question on the paper, reading all questions thoroughly will ensure you make the right choices and can highlight how much you know about the topic.

Don't forget to attempt all questions that you have selected. However, be careful of MCQ questions with negative marking. If you're not sure of the answer you could cost yourself some valuable marks.

3. Manage Your Time

This is where you need to be strict on yourself. Once you have assigned a time limit for each question, you MUST move on once you hit it or you won't be able to give the next question your full attention.

Remember to leave yourself some time at the end to go back over your answers and add in little notes or pieces of information about the topic. You never know, this could help bump you up a grade!

4. Structure Your Answer

Write to maintain heading and points in your answer. In this style of writing your question getting perfect and looking good. As you give heading to your answer your opinion and vocabulary getting sharp and sharp in your mind.

Exam Writing Tips Don't just jump into writing your answer. Take the first few minutes to plan the structure of your essay which will save you time when you are delving into meaty parts. Always stay on topic; if you're discussing the role of women in society as portrayed by the author in Of Mice and Men, don't digress and start outlining other themes in the book for example. Most essays should have an introduction, three main points and a conclusion. A lot of students see a conclusion as a final sentence to finish the piece off. A strong conclusion give an A grade student the chance to shine by bringing everything together and fortifying their opinion.

5. Explore Both Sides of an Argument

Building your argument in the main body of your exam answer will give your overall opinion credibility. English language questions, for example, encourage you to explore both sides of an argument and then conclude with a critical analysis of your answer.

Many questions you approach will look as though they seek a straightforward answer but in reality they want you to fully outline a structured essay. Don't fall into the trap of providing a one-sided view, get your hands dirty and open your mind to other possibilities.

6. Review Your Answers Thoroughly

Smart students can still make the mistake of handing their answer book in without checking through what they have written. Proofread your answers as much as you can to correct any spelling mistakes and add any extra comments you think are worth mentioning. You will be surprised what you can spot in those last few minutes. This is your last chance to throw in that quotation, list other relevant points or even draw a quick diagram. Now is not the time to drop your game, show the examiner what you're made of!

Remember, the exams are not designed to trick you. Don't panic on the day of your exam or this brain freeze could mean that you get a lower grade that you truly deserve. Convince yourself that you know how to answer exam questions and your almost there.

Let's start to prepare your exams. We hope you will find out a better Student Regarding your study and exams, Kashaan Academy wishes for you and to all the best for your exams and upcoming life.

Q.46 Read the given passage carefully and tick the right answer. (10)

Butterflies are some of the most interesting insects on the planet Earth. There are more than seventeen thousand different kinds of butterflies! Butterflies come in all shapes and sizes. Butterflies go through four main stages of life. The first stage is the egg stage followed by the larva stage. As a larva, or caterpillar, the future butterfly eats as much as possible. As it grows, it sheds its outer skin, or exoskeleton. This may happen four or five times. After a few weeks, the caterpillar enters the next stage of its life, the chrysalis stage. In the chrysalis, the caterpillar will liquefy into a soup of living cells. Then, it will reorganize into a butterfly and the metamorphosis is complete. In later parts of the chrysalis stage, you can see the forming butterfly through the chrysalis. When the butterfly emerges from the chrysalis, it pumps its wings to send blood through them so that it can fly. Most butterflies only live a couple of weeks. Some like the Monarch Butterfly, however, may live many months.

Q.73: Read the following paragraph and answers the questions.

Galileo was born in the year 1564 in the town of Pisa, Italy. When he was 20 years old, he was studying in Pisa. His father wanted him to be a doctor, but Galileo was bored with school except for math. Since maths was the one subject where he was doing well, the court mathematician offered to tutor him privately so he could become a quailed mathematician. Galileo's father was disappointed, but he agreed. He needed to earn money, so Galileo began experimenting with different things, trying to come up with some sort of invention that he could sell for money. He invented a compass that could be used to measure plots of land. He had already experimented with pendulums, thermometers, and magnets. When he heard that a Dutch inventor had invented something called a spyglass, but was keeping it a secret, Galileo decided to work on one of his own. Within 24 hours, he had invented a telescope that could magnify things to make them appear ten times larger than real life. One night, he pointed his telescope toward the sky, and made his first of many space observations: the moon was not smooth, like everyone thought. The moon was covered in bumps and craters. As technology has improved, Galileo, and then many others, have made improvements on the telescope, the wonderful device that allows us to see from a distance.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

1. Where was Galileo born?

ANS: Galileo was born in the town of Pisa, Italy in 1564

2. Which was his favorite subject in school days?

4. How many times did telescope magnify the image?

ANS: Telescope magnifies the image by 10 times.

of any kind. They are shy and inscrutable. They may appear to be dull and devoid of enthusiasm to others. They prefer indoor activities, to outdoor ones.

Successful People

According to my opinion extroverts lead a beautiful and busy life. This is because extroverts are those people who are social by nature, love to socialize and arrange parties, like to make friends and other fun related activities. They are doers and remain busy in such activities. Also the friends circle expands with time which improves the personality traits and they become very approachable influential people. They become very informed persons because they like to share things with friends and they are interested in people and social news. They are good with people and love the public dealing jobs. The most important quality of the extroverts is that they love crowds while many people run away from crowds. Most of the sports personalities are extroverts and they like sports and recreation activities.

Q.77: Read Unit 5. Suppose you are travelling to Kalash Valley in Chitral. Write a short paragraph about Kalash Valley. Read relevant material about the place.

KALASH VALLEY

Located in the North-West Frontier Province of Pakistan, the Kalash people live in three isolated mountain valleys: Bumboret (Kalash: Mumret), Rumbur (Rukmu), and Birir (Biri). These valleys are opening towards the Kunar River, some 20 km south (downstream) of Chitral,

The Birir valley opens towards the Kunar at the village of Gabhirat. A pass connects the Birir and Bumboret valleys at about 3000 m. The Kalash villages in all three valleys are located at a height of approximately 1900 to 2200 m.

The region is extremely fertile, covering the mountainside in rich oak forests and allowing for intensive agriculture, despite the fact that most of the work is done not by machinery, but by hand. The powerful and dangerous rivers that flow through the valleys have been harnessed to power grinding mills and to water the farm fields through the use of ingenious irrigation channels. Wheat, maize, grapes (generally used for wine), apples, apricots and walnuts are among the many foodstuffs grown in the area, along with surplus fodder used for feeding the livestock.

The climate is typical of high elevation regions without large bodies of water to regulate the temperature. The summers are mild and agreeable with average maximum temperatures between 23° and 27°C (73° - 81°F). Winters, on the other hand, can be very cold, with average minimum temperatures between 2° and 1°C (36° - 34°F). The average yearly precipitation is 700 to 800 mm (28 - 32 inches).

Historically a goat herding and subsistence farming people, the Kalash are moving towards a cash-based economy whereas previously wealth was measured in livestock and crops. Tourism now makes up a large portion of the economic activities of the Kalash. To cater to these new visitors, small stores and guest houses have been erected, providing new luxury for visitors of the valleys. People attempting to enter the valleys have to pay a toll to the Pakistani government, which is used to preserve and care for the Kalash people and their culture.

2. Distance of the place you travelled to from your own city.
3. Which transport you availed for travelling.
4. Purpose of travelling.
5. How much time did it take to reach the place?

Ans.

It is generally said that a journey by bus is not so thrilling. However, I had quite a pleasant experience of the journey by bus which I undertook last Sunday.

The week before Sunday had been a very hot one. My parents decided to spend a week at Murree. We boarded the bus from Rawalpindi to go to Murree. We reached the Daewoo bus stand early in the morning. It seemed good when we reached the passenger lounge. Daewoo passenger lounge well managed. My father had to stand in a queue for some minutes to buy the tickets. Meanwhile, we sat there on a sofa. Some announcements were being made. For a moment we felt that we are on an airport.

Soon it was announced that the bus for Murree has come and every passenger is requested to occupy his allotted seat. All passengers came in a queue. The luggage was loaded by porters. I was feeling a thrill of pleasure in my heart. I was fortunate in getting a seat near the window. I looked out constantly with great curiosity. At first the terrain was plain and it was quite hot even in the bus.

After sometimes, the bus moved on a hilly terrain and seemed to be moving upwards. I however, did not feel afraid because my papa and mummy were also there with me. Moreover, I found myself quite grown up to be courageous and bold.

I saw green hills, lush green forests which were dark and deep and small rivulets and springs. The pine trees looked very charming. The colorful flowers dancing in the breeze seemed to carry away my heart.

Indeed, it was a hilarious journey. As we reached Murree, we felt that it was there cold enough to force us to wear some woolen garments. This was my first visit to Murree which I can never forget. Nor I can ever forget the sweet journey by bus that we had.

Q.95 In Unit 6, you learnt about formal and informal expressions for inviting people. You have to be formal while inviting your elders to an event and you can informally invite your youngers or the persons to whom you have friendly relations. (10)

For example:

Dear Nasir,

Assalamo Alaikum!

It is since a long that we have not met with each other. How is life there and all family members? We are planning to visit Northern areas next month. I am taking this opportunity to invite you to join us at this splendid tour. You will remember it forever. Northern Areas of Pakistan are spread over 72,496 sq. km. Amidst towering snow-clad peaks with heights varying from 1,000 m to 8,000 meters, the regions of Gilgit, Hunza, Baltistan and Shangri-La.

The cultural patterns of these regions are as interesting as its geography. The people with typical costumes, folk dances, music and sports like polo and buzkashi, provide the traveller an unforgettable experience. High peaks are K-2 or Mount Godwin Austin, Gasherbrum-I, Broad Peak (8,047 m) and Gasherbrum-II. Another is Nanga Parbat.

The Northern Pakistan has some of the longest glaciers outside Polar region; Siachen, Hispar, Biafo, Baltoro and Batura.

There is much more to share to you but until then good bye. Take care of you and pay my Salam to everyone at home.

Yours
Ahmed Shahzad
